

SPEECH AND DRAMA ARTS

The Speech and Drama Arts programme develops literacy, communication and presentation skills and boosts the self-confidence of learners with dyslexia. It provides an avenue for our students to express themselves and demonstrate their talents in a fun and artistic way. Drama can be a powerful tool to help students with learning differences.

6 BENEFITS OF A DRAMA CLASS

BUILDS SELF-ESTEEM

Students are given opportunities to express themselves in a safe environment. Lessons are taught through games and activities to engage students.

DEVELOPS PROBLEM-SOLVING SKILLS

Through a spectrum of life situations, students get to rehearse roles and characters. They are encouraged to question, respond and present solutions.

DEVELOPS CREATIVITY

Students actively contribute to the storytelling process. They are encouraged to use their imagination and come up with creative solutions and make-believe scenarios.

DEVELOPS EMPATHY

Through drama, students will explore conflict and challenging characters. These exercises enable them to be aware of differing viewpoints and help develop empathy for others.

CONFIDENT COMMUNICATOR

Communication takes place in verbal, nonverbal and physical forms. Through the rehearsing of lines and participating in performances, students have the chance to practice various modes of communication.

DEVELOPS SELF-AWARENESS

The expression of emotions, in meaningful fictional situations, allows students to evaluate their values, emotions and thoughts.
